

ANARCHISTS.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal:
Mr. Harrison, Bourke Cockran, all the big guns and little guns, are belching forth their abuse, crying out anarchy, revolutionists, repudiators, &c., until one not acquainted with the conditions would suppose that the silver forces were composed of the basest set of creatures that the sun ever shone upon.

Let us examine briefly the conditions. All we ask, is that silver shall be restored to its place occupied before 1873. Messrs. Blaine, Garfield, Allison, Beck, Kelley and many others, the most prominent men of the time, assure us that silver was secretly and fraudulently demonetized. No one can deny that the motive prompting this action was to increase the power of money and enhance the value of all fixed investments.

All parties and platforms up till 1890 have denounced the act of 1873 as an outrage on the American people. As a result of this act widespread distress and financial ruin have prevailed in all gold standard countries for the last 23 years. The best financial experts in the world assure us that 70,000,000 American people can restore silver to its former position and hold it at a parity with gold; and by the eternal we intend to do it.

But what do these saintly plutocrats propose to benefit the people in their dire extremity? Not a thing. They want to meet us in fair discussion, but stand off like the Negro and hurl at us all the filth of the bar room and bawling. How do they propose to defeat us? By wholesale lies, fraud, suborning the press, bribery and every villainous and despicable means in the power of gold to devise.

Mark Hanna, the bloated millionaire of Cleveland, stands for everything disreputable as a money shark and an oppressor of labor. Matt Quay represents all that is loathsome in political intrigue. Yet these two are the head and shoulders of the gentle and saintly plutocrats in this campaign.

Call us anarchists and revolutionists. The masses are conducting a fair and honest campaign, appealing to the reason and thought of the people. They have no thought of anarchy or revolution. These accusations arise from the dearth of solid argument for the gold thieves. But beware! We will not be trod down as galley slaves by the power of wealth. Let them cease their unbecoming conduct. Let them give no occasion for anarchy and revolution and there will be none. Take the grip of greed from our throats, take the tyrant heel of gold from our necks.

FARMER.

GILBERT GARRARD.

Removed as Postmaster at Manchester because he is for Bryan.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 13.—It has been the current talk in this section for some time that the present administration has been using bulldozing tactics to make those holding office under it vote for Palmer and Buckner or support McKinley. This, however, has been denied by the gold bugs; but their denial was set at naught this morning when the papers announced that Gilbert Garrard, the postmaster, at this place, had been removed and W. C. Pitman, a gold bug, appointed his successor. The only charge against Mr. Garrard is that he is for free silver and attended a democratic convention, which nominated James D. Black, a free silver democrat, for Congress. Both republicans and democrats are indignant over the matter and say it will cost McKinley two hundred votes in this county. The people in this section are opposed to bayonet rule. There were only five gold bug democrats in this county and since this high-handed piece of work, two of them say that they will vote for Bryan. Gilbert Garrard is one of the best known business men in the State, being a son of Gen. T. T. Garrard, an ex-Union general, and the owner of the famous Gocek Creek Salt Works, and a life-long democrat.

I. O. O. F. RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS, Almighty God in His infinite wisdom has removed from earth to Heaven, our brother, J. M. Hendricks, therefore be it

Resolved, That our lodge has lost a good member, the church one who ever lived as a consistent member and let the light of a good man shine, and the community in general a useful citizen, who conscientiously performed every duty to God and man, and his family a loving husband and father.

2. That while expressing our sorrow for his family, we extend to them our sincere sympathy and point them to Him who alone can give consolation.

3. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, a copy given to the family of our deceased brother and that they be published in our local papers.

I. M. BRUCE,
A. C. SINE,
T. J. TETER.

—Judge George Castleman, of St. Louis, died at his ranch, near San Antonio, Tex., where he had gone with the hope of recovering his health. He was a brother of Gen. John B. Castleman, of Louisville.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Bob Young, Dick Baker and a Mr. Turk, of Cumberland county, reached the West End Monday with a mixed lot of 130 good cattle.

—Democrats from this End, after a patient hearing of the discussion at Stanford Monday, pronounced Thompson's speech his best, and entirely too killing for his opponent, Tyler, who precipitatedly sought solace in a quiet lounge before he finished.

—There will be to-day (Friday) a barbecue on Rolling Fork, a few miles west of here, at which distinguished democratic speakers of that brand that has a cinch on the rooster's crest emblem, will descend on sound democracy. Preparations were made for a large crowd.

—Last Friday night the Bess presided at a love feast in a colored church here, which was attended by some of the National sound money philanthropists. We did not get the name of the orator who accompanied the judge. Time was too precious for a proposed subdivision to be entertained for a moment. Rural pensioners of both colors, sandwiched in two horse wagon loads, rolled in before early candle lighting. One pilgrim was recognized who lately was greatly exercised about his republican neighbor's elucidation of the proposed financial house pocus, which will necessitate an outlay of 16 silver dollars to obtain one little gold dollar. The brother was assured that Bryan's election insures that ratio of the dollars and as the gold is intrinsically without an iota's additional value by virtue of mintage, the most valuable metal in the world, and to be the poor man's money, where will he be when he has to buy gold with silver dollars? One of our pension drawers proclaims that he wants things to stay just as they are. He raises nothing to sell and his pension money buys him about twice as much store goods as when his neighboring farmers, who raised a surplus, got a living price for their products. That illiterate beneficiary of governmental gratuity is a creditable counterpart of his philanthropic (?) fellow patriots whose income is in interest on bonds, bank stock and loans. No fluctuation in interest, even now, but under McKinleyism he can nominate gold in the bond, which insures him a 200 cent dollar income. Men who were wont to denounce the venality of Eastern politics as evidenced by party fluctuations, have suddenly come on an emergency, when they can see the profit of subverting party pride and principle to greed, and never till now appreciated how absolutely nothing (peculiarly profitable) there is in a name. Men who once would have resented with a blow a charge that they were not politically all that pure and undiluted democracy implies, in whose nostrils the very name republican was a stench, to-day see the profit to their exchequer of obliterating party lines and though pretending allegiance to democracy, intend deliberately affixing their stamp in privacy of the booth under the republican emblem. Why? For the same reason that many one time democrats of late years added to the pension rolls, now vote with their former enemies—for the money there is in it. There are men who would have brained the heeler who offered them a bribe to vote for Davison, that see a prospect of a profit in so doing now and will probably persuade themselves it is best for their pockets to do it. There are, thank misfortune, gentlemen who are honestly persuaded that in abandoning their life long faith and principles they subservise a wholesome end. A Pauline stroke is invoked for them. As their spousary is from conviction and principle, their is a chance for their ultimate salvation. The gates are eternally closed against the other class. Selah. H. W.

POLITICS IN CASEY.

DUNNVILLE, Oct. 13.—Hon. N. B. Hays, of Pineville, will speak here Friday night and ex-Senator Neat Saturday evening. Both will speak in the interest of the democratic party.

Bolton J. R. Hindman, the roaring lion of Adair, passed through here today. We are sorry that he has deserted his party thus but we can only cite him to Benedict Arnold.

One Mr. Yarberry spoke Saturday night here in the interest of the republican party. He made a complete failure. He started out by telling he came from between the plow handles, and he had not spoken but a short time when it was very evident that the plow handles was the place for him. It seemed that he had heard more and knew less than any man that ever visited Dunnville. His entire speech was made up of heresay and old jokes. What little argument he put up was of the weakest sort and any child 10 years of age could see that his entire talk was made out of the oldest style falsehood.

—“So marvelous has been the witchery of Bryan's language and so profound the statesmanship which his speeches during the campaign have displayed, that divine inspiration is the only theory on which his success can be explained.”—Atlanta Constitution.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—The Bryan club here numbers 200.
—A little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Claypool died at Grove last week of croup.

—Sunday was children's day at the Baptist church. Rev. W. E. Foster preached a very able discourse to the little ones.

—The Bryan club here is composed of gold democrats, prohibitionists, free silver democrats and republicans. Boltoncrats are scarce here as fiddlers are supposed to be in Paradise.

—Geo. N. Staton, of the Mr. Olive vicinity, has come out for Bryan and Newall and is making free silver speeches. Mr. Staton has been an uncompromising republican until recently when espoused the cause of free silver.

—There is a brand new boy at H. C. McWhorter's and it will probably be christened William Jennings Bryan. J. W. McWhorter, Jr., and wife, of Yossomite, went to Frankfort last week on wheels. John Spears is wrestling with theague.

—A gentleman from Lincoln county in speaking the other day, of the Pleasant Point camp meeting, said that it resulted in bringing the concern out in debt, and in breaking up the Baptist church out there and in scattering the messes that has caused a death or two. He said it also furnished an opportunity for few one-horse preachers to air themselves and get a fat living at the expense of those they were dealing with the false doctrine they were teaching.

—The Baptist ladies realized $24 on the supper they gave recently. These good women deserve much credit for the efforts they are making to get the church out of debt. Miss Belle Coulter requests us to say that the ladies' aid society will ever hold in grateful remembrance Mrs. W. T. Miller, of the Methodist church, and the brethren and sisters of the Christian church for their unbounded kindness in aiding them in getting up the supper.

—J. C. Coulter swapped his house and lot opposite the Baptist church to Mrs. Maggie Royalty for her farm above town paying $1.80 to boot. Mr. Coulter is building an addition to the house he got of Mrs. Royalty and will move to it this week. Jim never did enjoy living in the city, in fact he never seemed to catch on to city ways. The boys liked him and tried to teach him how to appear to an advantage, but he would be green in spite of them. Jim is a good democrat though and a jolly good fellow in every way and people ought to look over his awkward ways.

CHURCH CHIMES.

—Rev. R. R. Noel will preach at Walnut Point at 11 a. m. Sunday.

—While leading in prayer meeting at a Methodist church near Germantown, O., George Kuntz fell dead.

—Rev. W. F. Smith, pastor of the Christian church at Richmond, has kicked up a fuss by his bitter opposition to dancing.

—Paducah has a population of 8,147 and of them 3,954 belong to churches, the Southern Methodist's heading the list with 1,674.

—The Archbishop of Canterbury was seized with apoplexy while kneeling in prayer at Hawarden church, London, and died in a few moments.

—Rev. M. S. Trafton, of Wilmore, will preach at the Methodist church Sunday morning and night, while the pastor is filling his appointment at McKendree.

—Rev. R. B. Mahony tells us that his congregation at London was invited to the Methodist church at that place Sunday night and that he preached to them.

—The Kentucky Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church meets at Bowling Green on Tuesday, Oct. 27th, continuing three days. It has 112 ministers, 182 churches and 20,000 communicants, whose contributions last year amounted to $180,000.

—Rev. Henry N. Faulconer closed a two weeks' meeting at Eckmansville, Ohio, Friday night, after having received 40 additions to the church in that short time. This was all the more remarkable from the fact that 28 additions had been made to the congregation just prior to Mr. Faulconer's meeting.—Advocate.

—Mrs. Robert Baller writes us from Oaks Chapel that Rev. Ira Partin, of Garrard, held a two-weeks meeting there and received 41 into the church, 24 from the Methodists. He organized a Baptist church with 37 members. Rev. M. A. Middleton, of Pleasant Point Baptist church, and Bro. Kit Oaks, of Ephesus church, assisted in the organization. Bro. Partin agreed to serve the church as pastor for three months.

—Col. Sanders D. Bruce, founder of the American Stud Book, the first volume of which was issued in 1866 and which has been the authoritative record of racing stock in the United States for over 30 years, has just sold the book to the New York Jockey Club people for $35,000 cash.

—Over 100 charred bodies have been recovered from the ruins in the burned city of Guayaquil, Ecuador.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The walls of the Thompson block are rapidly going up, and before long the burnt district will present a new appearance.

—The K. P.s. have a scheme on foot by which they will most likely succeed in building a handsome lodge room and an opera house. Who comes next?

—Your correspondent still insists that the friends of Judge Pryor take pains to instruct all democrats, of both wings of the party, how to vote for him for re-election. If this is not done one of the best men in the State may be defeated without a cause.

—The numerous friends of Judge Barnside will be gratified to learn that his chances for recovery are better, after having suffered for five weeks from the wounds received, by accident, when Postmaster Hamilton was forced to kill the colored man, Knox.

—Judge William Lindsay and Col. John R. Fellers, the famous Tammany Hall orator, will speak at Richmond on Monday, 19th, and the Bryan and Newall club, of Madison county, has arranged for a grand barbecue, on the day following. Distinguished speakers will be present and all clubs in the adjoining counties, are invited to attend.

—One word to the democrats. The vote will soon be cast and the most important campaign in the history of the nation will be ended. The time, for heated speaking, and a manifestation of passion and prejudice, has passed. Other, and more forcible arguments should be used. A hint to the wise is sufficient. The enemy is already at work and the combination is dangerous. Deeds, and not words, will alone avail anything now. With a long and steady pull, Thompson can be elected and Bryan and Newall will carry Kentucky, which will insure their election.

—Quarterly court has been in session this week, Hon. J. Mort Rothwell, presiding, having been selected as special judge, Judge Barnside being ill. The only case attracting attention was the trial of young Thomas Hackley, a prominent young man of Lincoln county, on the charge of taking a water Spaniel pup, belonging to J. I. Hamilton, last July. Many nice points were argued and the defendant was held in a bond of $100, to appear before the circuit court. Hamilton had offered $20 reward for the pup and he was brought in. Although Hackley found him playing about his buggy when he took him and likely meant no harm, thinking he had strayed away, there are reasons for further investigation.

—Judge Davison was here Monday, and seemed to be forgetful of the fact that his opponent, Hon. John B. Thompson, was to speak in his town on the same day. While this was discourteous, we cannot blame him, for he could not afford to meet Mr. Thompson in debate. He spoke here on Monday night, to a republican audience, when he had everything his own way. Mr. Sieber, of Ohio, spoke in behalf of the republican ticket and R. T. Tyler, who was a democrat last year, and the nominee for lieutenant governor, spoke for the so-called National democrats. They had a good audience, but refused to divide time with J. Mort Rothwell, a speaker duly authorized by the State democratic campaign committee. This seems to be in keeping with their tactics all over the country, as they refuse to divide time on all occasions.

HUBBLE.

—H. C. Walters lost a cow from something like hydrophobia.

—Letcher O'wiley, Esq., will speak at Bright's school-house next Wednesday night, 21st.

—Four deaths among the children of this settlement occurred last week from whooping cough.

—Mr. E. Owens and Mrs. Pinkie Ross were married Tuesday and all extend to them their best wishes.

—George Wood has rented Samuel M. Spoonamore's Blackberry house and lot for next year. We are glad to have him and his good wife come among us.

—B. W. Givens sold to Ed Minor some 600-lb. yearlings at 2½c. Joab Rigney sold to Wm. Logan a lot of work oxen and yearling steers at 2½c. S. M. Spoonamore has rented his shop to Tub Anderson, of Bryantville, for next year.

BOBBITT HAS THE CALL.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal.

CRAIG ORCHARD, Oct. 15.—Please to insert in your issue till day that I will speak in the court-house at Stanford at 1 o'clock Monday, Oct. 20, first day of circuit court. You made this announcement for me some time ago, but I see a gentleman from Louisville has advertised by hand bill that he will speak at Stanford at the same time, but I shall insist upon the priority of my appointment, though I am willing to divide time with him, provided I speak 1½ hours first, and then the original Bruce could not better down my financial castle.
